

Good Friday at Home

What follows are some ideas and suggestions for ways to remember and participate in Good Friday even as we are physically distant from one another. I offer these as ideas and suggestions, if something sparks your creativity, I would love to hear about it. Do not feel that these are a list you need to check off but a set of ideas and suggestions for ways you might remember Good Friday.

REFLECTIONS

- Chicago Ecumenical Stations of the Cross – available on YouTube here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xi3Z5-SVyS8>
- Read the full story of the crucifixion: Choose one of the gospels and read the full story from the celebration of Passover in the Upper Room to the death and burial of Jesus, read slowly, notice the feelings that emerge, reading aloud can change how you are experiencing what you are reading.
- Betwixt Podcast – offers a 10 minute per station of the cross reflection. Available here: <https://www.betwixtpodcast.com/single-post/2020/03/27/Stations-of-the-Cross-in-a-Time-of-Pandemic>

ACTIVITIES

- Prayer walk your neighborhood: as you walk, wonder and pray for the people around you and their families, whether you know their circumstances or not.
- Choose one creative act of service or giving for another: you will have to be creative in this but how might you serve one other person today
- Using whatever supplies, you can find, create a cross that you will then display in a window or on your door.

Thank you!

As a reminder, the following virtual services are still forthcoming for our community at Hickory Hills Presbyterian Church as we close out Holy Week.

Holy Saturday Vigil

- A Facebook Live event at 7:00pm on April 10. This will also be available to watch at any time afterwards at facebook.com/hickoryhillspresbyterianchurch

Easter Sunday Worship

- Facebook Live events at 10:00 am and 5:00 pm at facebook.com/hickoryhillspresbyterianchurch
- An Easter Worship Service will be available on our website at hickoryhillspres.org/virtual-worship